All of us at Hobby Hill have been gratified by the acceptance that our educational toys have built up in America's toy shops. Pleased by the response from satisfied parents and happy tots—proud of the commendation from educators and appreciative of the influx of orders that have come our way.

This is proof enough to us that our toys shall remain a permanent power item. We, therefore, have patented all of our toys for your protection and to assure you that our merchandise is priced right we have received complete price approval from CPA.
